CVIAQ Apprentice Challenge

The Apprentice Challenge is open to heavy vehicle mechanical apprentices employed and nominated by members of the CVIAQ.

The 2009 CVIAQ Apprentice Challenge is a competition held to promote Heavy Vehicle Mechanical apprenticeships to people of all ages. It also aims to promote and foster a professional image of the heavy vehicle industry to the wider community.

The competition consists of two teams of two participants each. One team consists of apprentice representatives which are selected by CVIAQ from its membership to represent the industry. "Team CVIAQ" are the ambassadors for the industry. The remaining team may consist of industry members, personalities, media or the general public.

The competition will be held at 1pm on each day of the 2009 Queensland Truck and Machinery Show and is a 'hands on' practical test where teams are required to rectify identical faults in identical vehicles within a defined time period. The winning team is the team that first successfully identifies and repairs all faults or the team that rectifies the most faults within the allowed time frame.

To participate you must be a heavy vehicle mechanical apprentice enrolled in an approved National Training Package course relevant to the heavy vehicle industry and be nominated by your employer or training provider.

Nominations close on Friday the 17th of April 2009
